The Medical Laboratory Scientists Association (MLSA) respects your right to privacy. This statement and the more detailed MLSA Privacy Policy detail the collection and use of personal data in the context of the MLSA's website and e-mail newsletters. All subscriber data is stored in a highly secure facility and we do NOT share subscriber information with third parties.

When you join the MLSA, we collect and save your email address. We use this information to send you regular MLSA newsletter updates and information that is relevant to you as a member of the MLSA. If you wish to discontinue your subscription to our mailing lists or to change your format preference, you can do so via the link at the bottom of each mailing.

Your clicks on links in the newsletter and in the MLSA website are saved to help us assess the popularity of the content and to make decisions about future content and formatting.

Cookies

A cookie is a small file that is automatically issued to the User's computer when the User enters our Site and which is stored by the browser on the User's computer hard drive. Cookies identify the User's computer, not the individual user of the computer. Cookies store some basic information that helps the MLSA to identify if a User of a computer has previously visited the Site and if the User has provided some personalised information. The MLSA's use of cookies enables the User to save the password for the Members' Area in their browser, so the User does not have to re-enter it each time they visit the MLSA Site. If you are using a shared workplace computer to access the Members' Area of the website, we recommend that you do not allow your password to be saved.

Analytics

The MLSA uses third party analytics (Google Analytics) to analyse the use of the MLSA website and e-newsletter. Analysis of the MLSA website and e-newsletter does not identify the individual User, but rather the operating system of the device used for browsing, location, pages visited etc.

External Links

The Site contains links to other sites. The MLSA is not responsible for the privacy practice, security practices or the content of such sites.

Users' Consent

By using the MLSA website or subscribing to MLSA e-newsletters, users consent to the storing of cookies and the collection and use of their personal information as described in this Privacy Statement and the more detailed MLSA Privacy Policy. This statement, the MLSA Privacy Policy and MLSA procedures are subject to regular review. The MLSA will post any changes on the MLSA website to keep Users aware of what information is collected, how it is used and under what circumstances it may be disclosed.
